FOR CONORESS, JOHN S. BARBOUR, OF ALEXANDRIA

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 27.

The Episcopal Council now in session in Now York can't understand why it is that the four millions of emarcipated and enfranchised pegroes of the South awaken in the minds of the Northern members of the church for less eathusiasm and call forth not one moity of the liberality that the Indian does. And yet the problem is not a hard one for these who rightly understand the Northern people to selve, for they know that, save only at national election times, there is nothing of less interest to a Northern man than a negro. At such times the negro is the object of the Northern man's most auxious solicitude, but as soon as the elec tion is over he takes no more interest in him than he does in his cousin in Congo. But this couldn't be driven into a negro's lead with s sledge hammer.

At the instance of the national regulican committee Mr. Pelouze, the republican condidate for Congress in the Richmond district, has been withdraw in favor of Captain John S. Wise, the Mahonite candidate. All now see why General Mahone and Captaia Wise have been holding conferences with members of the national republican committee in Philadelphia. recently. But what must upprejudiced mon thick of the party of "high moral ideas," of the party whose chief aim is to "secure the binding obligation of preaniary contrac's," but which now compels one of its own members, Special Correspondence of the Alexa. Gazette. and a debt payer, to withdraw in favor of at least an arowed democrat, and a member of a party which, according to one of its most prominent lights, wants the principles of readjustment applied to the national as well as to the State debt? But the republican party regards neither logic, consistency, principle, nor truth, and is utterly uniccupulous in its efforts to weaken the demeeracy in order to prolong its own control of the government. What has been done in the case of Mr. Pelouz) will be done with all the other ropublican congressional candidates in Virginia export those in the Norfolk and Petersburg districts, in which their candidates stand a good chance of being elcoted. But all reasonable democrats will ask, what are the Mahonites to give the radicals in exchange for the powerful support thus afforded them? Radicals are not the sort of men to grant favors with no prespect of a return, and they certainly would not have conferred such a great one as this, involving as it does a complete and emphatic renunciation of their debt paying policy, without a large recompense. What the character of that recompense may be is as yet only positively known to the parties to the bargair; but to see that the opportunity for i's payment shall never occur will be the duty of every democrat in the State from now until the polls close next Tucsday

We understand that some of the registrars in this city have refused to register since Saturday evening last persons whom they know to be possessed of all the qualifications requisite forregistration, and that they do so in consequence opposition to Bayly. of conso entious belief concerning the requirements of the registration law. In this we thick | being plundered out of a large portion of their they are mistaken, and, if so, as the constitution of the State guarantees to every man of sound mind and not convicted of crime who is twenty one years of age; and has paid his capitation tax the privilege of voting, we trust that they will reconsider their determination and register all persons whom they believe to be entitled to vote next Tuesday. It is true that section S of the registration law provides "that ton days previous to the November elections the registrar shall sit one day," and that section 10 provides "that if the registrar shall be unable to bear evidence regarding names stricken from the books on that day, the books may be kept open, as to such names only, for four other days," but the law, in neither of these 820 tions nor anywhere else, provides that qualified voters may not be registered on any day, and by reference to section 6 it will be seen that the specified limitation as to days for fregistration was intended to limit the compensation of the registrars, and not to deprive a legal voter of the privilege of casting his ballot. Section 6 provides "that the registrar shall receive compensation only for such days us are specially mentioned," and that is right, for otherwise, whenever he wanted two dollars and had no other way of getting them, as the law does not prohibit him from opening his books on any day, all he would have to do to entitle him to draw vote for Mejor Bayly for Congress, and that if that amount from the city treasurer would be to Mr. Sherman thought that loyalty to the reopen his books for an hour or two. According to no strained interpretation of the law the registrar could, if so disposed, register qualified | ieg themselves to roundergo the miseries of voters on every day in the year, but he could provincial government if Garfield be elected, for only be paid for such days as are designated. by the radicals than one by which the There is no doubt that by the provisions of the people of those Southern States in which Baltimorean, dropped dead in Philadelphia his books save only on the specified days, but it | don't agree with the tallies to be kept is equally plain that if he choose to do so without pay there is nothing to prevent him, and as the registrars in Alexandria are gentlemen of This plan has not only been formed, but is leisure, and as it will not put them to much openly talked about, and its execution threattrouble or icconvenience to inscribe upon their oned publicly, at radical headquarters, and even books the names of the dezen or two of their fellow citizens who, by no willful fault, allowed the specified one day to clapse without presentng themselves, we hope they will do so, even though the State has not provided payment for such a slight service.

In his speech at Utica, New York, Monday night-for under the terms of his bargain with Garfield he has developed into a garrulous and rockless stump speaker-Gen. Grant said: "We all know that there is no man in the South who is not privileged to come and sottle among us in the North in any section and retain his political views, and at the same time prosecute his business, whether it be professional, mercantile or what not. The Northern man has not the same privilege in the South. If he goes there to prosecute his business he must be quiet on political questions of great weight.'

Now Rev. Henry Ward Bescher, Mr. Blaine and Mr. Garfield are wondrous perverters of the truth, but that Grant equals the best of them in this particular is proved by reference to his own words uttered just before the Chicago convention. Do Mr. Warner of Alabama, Mr. Kellogg of Louisians, Mr. Dezandorf of Virginia, or any of the Northern radicals now residing in the South "keep quiet on political questions of great weight?" Why of course they don't, and nobody at all acquainted with Southern feeling says they do except General Grant, and that he don't believe it is proved by his speeches delivered less than five months

A large manufacturer in Philadelphia, named Pierce, in an interview with a newspaper reporter naively says that he reasons with his democratic employes, that some of them say, "if your interests will be subserved by the election of Garfield I'll vote for him." but that others say they have been democrats all their lives and can't see the logic of his reasoning, and that he tells these latter that it isn't right that he should be giving them work to the exclusion of good republicans, but this, he says, "oan't be looked upon in the light of political intimidation," Poor soul, why of course it can't! Talk about bulldezing at the South, why its iniquity can't be compared with the merciless cruelty practiced in the North in the shape of political intimidation.

And so it turns out that Grant's present energetic support of Garfield is the result of a bargain between himself and Garfield's friends by which he was promised their support for the prosidency four years honos. Well, the General always was "on the make," as his cropy Dick Harrington would say, but he ought to be careful how he talks, for other people remember if he

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oat. 27, 1880. The subject of granting l'quer licenses here is now the principal topic of local talk. Of all the restaurants only two have so far obtained licenses to sell liquor. The law sags that the signatures of a impority of the property owners on both sides of the street on the tquare shall be required to obtain a license, and many of the restaurant keepers, in consequence of the temperaces clamor new raging, find it impossible to obtain that number. Mr. Mayoud, who represents the government, has refused to sign Aboer's application, and as the government is the sole property owner on the square opposite Abaer's it is probable he will have to close his establishment, or, at any rate, its F street ontrapce. Mr. Schuiz, who represents the government on the block above, this morning signed the application of Schwing & Clarke. The opposition to the license is so great that Mr. Wm. Morgan, who, by the by, is an old Alexandrian, has resigned his position as one of the license board.

A dispatch received hero this morning from the editor of the New York Clipper, the great sporting paper, says reports sent by the Associated Press about the betting there are untrue; that bots are even; that both the State and the city democracy ers united, and that New York is safe for the democrats.

Pestmaster McKenzie, of Alexandria, was in the city to day. He says that he is opposed to Major S. P. Bayly, the republican candidate for Congress in his district, because he does not think him the proper man for the place; that he understands that the Mijor is betting on Barbour's election, and that he (McKerzie) isn't scared a bit at the efforts the towpath or tootpads or any other sort of club are making to turn him out of his office on account of his

The setion of the national republican committee in withdrawing the republican congressional candidates in Virginia is the suffect of a good deal of comment here this morciog, and the general impression about it is that the rumor that the republicans are going to bonite candidates for Congress will be either the votes of the Mahorites for the straight Garelected, in case such help shall be required to make up the 185 electoral votes necessary to secure Garfield's election. Colonel Jones, one of the prominent orators of the Mahonites, was here yesterday, and did not besitate to say that Hapcock was already defeated. Can there be a democrat in Virginia who, with all this staring him the face, will go to the polls and vote the Mahone ticket? A letter received hore this morning from U. S. Senator Johnston, of Virginia, says that Mr. Trigg, the democratic candidate for Congress in the 9.h district of his State, stands a pretty fair chance of election. Mr. F. E. Corbett, deputy collector of the port of Alexandria, was here to-day, and while here called at the Treasury Department and informed the Assistant Secretary that his office was at the disposal of the Secrotary, as he would noder no circumstances publican party implied the support of Major Bayly, he didn't.

POLITICAL.

THE LITTLE FAMILY JAR,

The opposition which manifested itself to Major Bayly upon his nomination for Congress by the rapublican convention, especially on the part of certain leading spirits in that party, and notably by some of these holding federal appointmeats in this city, has been a subject of comment for some time, but the "war" appears to have broken out afrest, and, as stated in the Gazette, a committee from Washington yester day visited this city, having for its object the healing of the breach, but Major Bayly is inexorable, considering that he has been badly treated, and gives public notice that he will have the "scalps" of every custom house and postoffice official here and put in their places friends of his own. In addition to what we published yesterday in reference to this family foud, we take the following from the Washington Republican of to day, a statement of similar import appearing also in the Washington dispatch to the Baltimore American:

"For some time past the fact has been patent to the republicans of the eight Virginia district that there were influences in the postoflice and custom bouse at Alexandria decidedly hostile to Mr. Bayly, the republican nominee for Congress. So marked has this opposition now become that the attention of the chairman of the congressional committee was yesterday called to the fact that A. A. Warfield, the collector of the port, F. E. Corbett, a clerk in his office, and Mr McKenize, the city postmaster, were busily en-gaged in antagonizing the election of Mr. Bayly, and the question was asked whether it was the policy of a republican administration to permi office holders to utilize their positions to defeat the election of republicans to Congress. A member of the committee yesterday visited Alexandria to investigate the question and found that the collector and postmaster had formed a strange sort of combination, in which it was pro-posed by them to trade off this and several other districts in Virginia in which the republicans have a fair fighting chance for votes for the re-publican electoral ticket. In the consultation which took place Mr. McKenzie, the postmaster, stated that his opposition to Mr. Bayly was purely porsonal in its character, and he believed the course pursued by him in the matter was for the best interests of the republican party. The attitude of Mr. Warfield and his clerk will be brought to the attention of the tressury department, and as the commission of the former as e)lector of the port will expire about the last of next February, the probabilities of his reappointment will depend in a great measure upon the oxcuses he can produce for what is regarded here as treachery to his party or at least such temporizing with the enemy as leaves him under very grave suspicion. There is also but little doubt that when Assistant Postmaster General Typer comes to review the position of Mr. McKenzie in this matter, that gentleman's official peace of mind will undergo some rapid and startling changes."

THE REPUBLICANS WITHDRAWING.

At the instance of the national republican committee, II. I. Pelerzo, the republican candidate for Congress in the Richmond district, has been withdrawn, and republican voters are requested to vote for John S. Wise, the readjuster candidate, on account of his views on the dates for Congress in all the districts in this State except Nerfolk and Petersburg seems to have been consummated. II. L. Pelouza, the republican candidate in this district has withdrawn. He went before the republican State executive committee to day and declined to longer remain in the rice. This leaves the field open to George D. Wise, democrat, and John S. Wise, readjuster. The friends of the latter claim that his chances are encouraging for his success. A paper, emanating from the repub lican congressional committee, will appear today, calling upon the republican voters of the district to give their undivided support to John S. Wiss, the readjuster candidate for Congress. It is rumored that republican emissions in all of the cities and towns, and in the counties as far as possible, will disseminate the information among the negroes and white republicans that as this State is not at all processiry for the election of Garfield and Arthur, that their support of the Mahone electoral ticket and candidates for Coperess will not be disproved of by the leaders at the North. The impression will be sought to be made that this choice is made because of the fraternal spirit that has been shown to the negroes by that party since it got in power through their aid."

About 4,000 Hancock veterans, headed by Gens. McClollan and Sickles, paraded through the streets of New York city last night. Mostings were held at Tammany and Irving Halls, where Gens. CHY COUNCIL.

A called macring of the City Council was held last night to take some so ion in regard to the death of Hugh Latham, egg, a member of the Common Council from the First ward.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN. The Board of Aldormen was called to order at half-past seven o'clock with all the members present except Mr. Strauss, who was absent from the city. Shortly after assembling the following communication from the Mayor was received from the Common Council: The Honorable City Council of Alexandria:

GENTS: As Mayor of the city of Alexandria I deem it my duty to convene your honorable bodies and to aunounce to you the death of Hugh Latham, esq., member of the Common Council from the First ward, and to give you an opportunity to pass such resolutions as you may deem wise and appropriate.

Very respectfully, COURTLAND H. SMITH, Mayor. A resolution was also received from the Common Council appointing a committee of two members from each Board to draft suitable resolutions of respect. &c.

The action of the Common Council was concarred in, and Col. L. W. Reid and Wm. A. Moore, esq , were appointed the committee on the part of the Board, who retired, and in a short time restlutions of respect to the memory of the late Hugh Latham, which will be found in the official proceedings, were received from the Common Council, and adopted unsnimously.

Col. Reid in seconding the resolution that when the Council adjourn it be to meet tomorrow at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of attending the funeral of Mr. Latham in a body, said it was peculiarly appropriate that one who had been first among them should be thus honored, and he seconded the resolution with mournful pleasure breause he believed that there had never been a more hogest. corssien. tions member of the Council than Mr. Latham.

Mr. John B. Smoot also paid a tribute to Mr. Latham, and said he felt very sad over the death of that gentleman, for he had known him from childhood. He had served with him in the Common Council before the war, and had been intimately associated with him since, and notwithstanding they differed on some measurcs, their social relations were always very pleasant. He believed that all Mr. Latham did for the city, was done breause that gentleman honestly believed it was for the best, and he, Mr. S., was impressed with the sire rety of the man. Mr. Smoot speke of the strong will of Mr. Latham, and expressed his regret that the city would be deprived of the counsels of such a mar.

The Board then adjurated to meet to morrow at I o'cleck p. m., for the purpess of attending the funeral of Mr. Latham in a body.

COMMON COUNCIL. The Board met last night to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of Connectman Hugh latham. A joint committee was appointed to devise proper setion on the occasion. Messis, James S. Douglas and Joseph Broders were appointed members on the part of Censcil.

The committee, after a recess, reported a se ries of resolutions, which are to be found in the official preceedings in another column.

Mr. Eichberg regretted that he was not more competent to speak as he wished in paging a tribute of respect to the deceased. Such tribute as he might be would not forbare to offer. A warmer friend, a botter citizen, a better father and husband he had never known. He had known Mr. Latham 32 years, and his esteem for him had grown with years. He never promised that he did not perform. No man who relied upon him was ever descired. In all his cureer ed his failings, and all who know him must do badge of mourning for the Company, bonor to his honest, sturdy character. He was Resolved, That the different fire of honor to his honest, sturdy character. a friend to all; charitable and full of kindnes
